ONLINE PREPARATORY PROGRAMME

BUSINESS AREA

Combined with Master's Programme in LUXURY BRAND MANAGEMENT

The Domus Academy Preparatory programme is an 8-week long series of intensive online courses which allows students to improve their knowledge and prepare for the challenging interdisciplinary approach of the master's degree programmes.

Created for students who have already earned a bachelor's degree and who will be entering into a graduate-level programme, the courses will offer the opportunity to refine professional skills and acquire a deeper cross-disciplinary understanding of the design disciplines.

The Preparatory programme's core course will present a survey of design culture, while the individual pathways will address fundamental competencies in preparation for high-level study in the student's chosen area.

9 BUSINESS DESIGN reframes existing business models and past value proposition frameworks with the lens of a human-centered approach. Business Design, with design-thinking at its core finally reconciles current and latent customer needs with business practices and imperatives. Business Design brings sensible and sustainable managerial innovations to life.

Luxury goes beyond consumption: it is the narration around the brand - its heritage, story and excellence. Luxury brands have their raison d'être in creativity. They add value to their products and services by offering deeper meanings and intangible values to their target audience.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

The Master's Programme in Luxury Brand Management programme prepares students to manage the delicate balance between creativity and business for luxury brands. Students will learn how brand's purpose and offer can fit within a broader demographic, sociological and cultural landscape. Tomorrow's luxury brand managers will investigate the emerging values attached to the concept of luxury. Students will realize how branding is science and art, logic and emotions. They will practice how to recognize customer individual behaviors and social patterns, and uncover powerful insights to support luxury brands in developing strong point of views, meaningful values, strong emotional connections, through engaging and memorable experiences.

Moreover, Domus Academy ensures that students attending the academy become aware of the great opportunities surrounding them, such as the fact that Milan is an international and design-oriented city with a lot of famous design studios and agencies, research labs, trade fairs and companies. Students at Domus Academy come from about 50 different countries and this fact makes it an international school where different cultures can be met; Domus Academy is part of an international network of universities and the faculty of the academy are internationally renowned professionals in their field.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

On successful completion of this programme students will be able to:

- Examine the fundamental notions (values, products and services) connected to the luxury sector; its history, its evolution, its current definition, its consumers, the main market players, market segments and business models;
- Evaluate and expand a brand's reach, while developing a brand's equity, DNA and identity, at the core of any developmental strategy in the luxury sector;
- Illustrate an in-depth knowledge of luxury communication strategies, from traditional media (advertising, PR, events, sponsorships and collaborations) to digital, social media and the development of special projects;

- Identify key retail marketing tools and factors for successful channel management, the elements for seamless integration between physical channels and online channels (the Omni-channel strategy);
- Analyse luxury brands in order to promote innovation by employing techniques that shape future design and marketing opportunities;
- Develop an efficient and methodical research-led process in examining and strategizing constructive, innovative and brand-coherent business solutions.

The programme ensures students will gain the skills and attributes to:

- Develop a strong ability to communicate concepts and proposals in verbal, visual and written form;
- Formulate skills and competencies for interpersonal communication, negotiation and leadership to achieve professional goals;
- Generate a high potential for flexibility and adaptability to surroundings, people and trends within multicultural and multidisciplinary environments;
- Evaluate the industry impact on the environment and society; incorporate these learnings to develop ethical practices and solutions;
- Plan timelines within strict deadlines, to set definite goals, prioritize tasks and share responsibilities;
- Examine the current luxury industry landscape and formulate a unique professional positioning within industry.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The aim of the Master's in Luxury Brand Management is to equip students with the skills and abilities necessary to become luxury brand managers, product managers, marketing managers, communication and PR managers or branding and marketing consultants.

LEARNING AND TEACHING STRATEGIES

Domus Academy prioritizes an original “learning by designing” approach, that is in continuous development to reflect the fast changing world of today.

The teaching methods employed at Domus Academy are designed to help students achieve their individual professional goals along with the learning objective, while also considering their roles as designers in our contemporary world.

The primary vehicle for the “learning by designing” approach is project work. Emphasis is placed on, learning and applying a “problem setting” approach;

- to ensure that students refine their critical skills and apply them throughout their work process;
- to foster a personal creative style and developing an original way of expression;
- to develop research skills, which will enable students to source relevant materials, assimilating and articulating relevant findings;
- to conceive concepts and visions capable to blend creative languages with the actual needs of end users by interpreting a brief, primarily based on a real design assignment, in order to design a project that can match, or even exceed, the company’s expectation.

Students are exposed to different points of view in the design field, working with designers and companies. One of the purposes of this exposure is to give students the broadest view possible of the design field in order to support them in the selection of the area in which to concentrate their future careers.

All Master’s Programmes are workshop-based, supported by seminars, tutorials, lectures, work-in-progress sessions, critiques and a series of tutor led projects. Through a pro-active relationship with the academic staff, students will lead their project work and be supported through consultative and advisory tutorial guidance by the faculty and by visiting lecturers and designers who each have dedicated roles.

The “Programme Leader” is the teacher who has overall responsibility on a specific Master’s Programme, and whose role is to coach students and to support them in the definition of their learning and professional path. The Programme Leader sustains students in their workshop activities and coordinates the assessment process.

The “Project Leader” is professionals and teachers, chosen among experts of a specific field, whose role is to lead workshop activity, by developing a project brief in collaboration with the Programme Leader, inspire and provide guidance to students along the design process, and to take part in the assessment of the projects.

Formal teaching is supplemented by a range of visiting lecturers and visiting professionals where students will have the chance to attend presentations by designers, artists, critics, industry professionals and academics. Lectures are usually used for the presentation and discussion of theoretical issues. They will often be supported by group discussions, which provide an opportunity for interaction between faculty and students, and allow students to extend and examine the issues raised.

Students work in multi-cultural and international teams to enhance their capacity for teamwork, as well as to expose them to a comparison with different backgrounds and cultures. Most workshop activities require students to work in groups. Teams are carefully selected and suitably managed to ensure that all students are aware of effective group processes and contribute to final project outcomes.

STRUCTURE AND ASSESSMENT

The programme is organized in four main modules including courses and workshops, followed by a fifth module providing a professional experience period and a final portfolio presentation.

FINAL PRESENTATION / GRADUATION

COURSES

Courses aim at providing students, through a combination of lectures, exercises and tutorials, with the appropriate tools and experiences useful for the developing of their professional career. They encompass specific topics in preparation for the workshop, and personal branding experiences for the development of the student's professional career.

WORKSHOPS

The workshops are the main activity of the curriculum. Workshops are project assignments designed to give students a working knowledge of different core subjects. All workshops launch with the presentation of a brief, which outlines the subject, scope, and purpose of the workshop. The brief of the workshops is based on research issues defined by the faculty, in collaboration with external professionals and industrial partners, paying attention to fulfil both educational and professional aims.

In the development of the projects students will be supported by lectures aimed at broadening their knowledge on the specific investigation theme, inviting designers, researchers, stakeholders and representatives of companies to present their work and ideas as a link between the specific disciplinary perspective and the broader cultural/economic context.

The workshop culminates in an open presentation to the faculty and invited professionals. Feedback to students is an integral part of the final assessment provided to students after the presentation. The Programme Leader and the Project Leader are available to further discuss assessments with students if needed.

CORE WORKSHOP

Strategic Brand Management - (8 credits)

Digital Luxury Communication - (8 credits)

ELECTIVE WORKSHOP - (8 credits)

One to be chosen among:

- Entrepreneurship Through Design
- Strategic Brand Management
- Fashion Buying
- Digital Luxury Communication

FINAL PROJECT WORKSHOP

Students will be able to develop personal, in depth body of work as a culmination of their academic path. They develop design research, create projects and explore conceptual ideas that are transformed into tangible output ranging from fashion collections and styling to product design, interactive scenarios, communication and business strategies.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

The professional experience is the final step of a process in which students receive a deep and balanced evaluation of their skills and aspirations, in order to build a career, which fits their aims.

There are three kinds of professional experiences; an internship in a company where the students will be hosted in a work environment developing assigned real projects; a field learning experience as a specific work project carried out on campus in collaboration with a company; and an entrepreneurial journey in order to develop business and managerial skills.

FINAL EXAMINATION

The Master's Programme will end with a final examination in which the student will present his/her own Final Project to an Examination Board composed of internal faculty and external professionals. The Final Project realized by each student, and its' presentation, allow the Board to evaluate the development and quality of the original work. Components of the work, particularly in the initial research phase, can involve interdisciplinary teams; however, the results should represent an independent body of work at an advanced level. The evaluation criteria will depend upon the kind of project.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

The main goal of the assessment system is to monitor how students develop the design and technical competencies required to be awarded an Academic Master.

Assessment is done by evaluating each student with a 1 to 30 mark (pass 18 or above) given at the end of every workshop, and through a qualifying examination given at the end of each theoretical course. The admission mark to the final exam is calculated by arithmetic average, which takes in consideration all the marks taken after each workshop.

Students will receive 0-110 (pass 70 or above) as overall evaluation. The Diploma Examination Board may award up to 10 points for the Portfolio. Honors may be awarded on the basis of the Board assessment of study programmes, portfolio and presentation.

STUDY PLAN

Students will receive individual study counselling by the Programme Leader to establish a Study Plan that reflects their skillset and professional objectives with the academic offer available.

WORKSHOPS

CORE WORKSHOPS - COMPULSORY

STRATEGIC BRAND MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

In our consumeristic societies, the craze of luxury brands is a cult for brands that provide meaning. Only by adding a ladder of immaterial values and telling a story about its buyers, can a brand provide this meaning. Hence the reason why luxury and lifestyle brands cannot be analyzed and managed with the same parameters and through the same strategies as mass-tige or premium brands. At the same time, younger and new consumers are redefining the confines of what makes a luxury brand.

The objective of this workshop is to give students solid strategic brand management frameworks to appraise possible strategies and business development opportunities such as new product and services development, brand and line extension, innovative business models, and other growth strategies options.

DIGITAL LUXURY COMMUNICATION WORKSHOP

With an exponential rise of digital media platforms and channels, luxury brand managers are dealing with an extremely fragmented media landscape. Luxury brands need to adapt their communication strategies to each of those platforms, which implies declining their storytelling in multiple formats and with multiplicity. On one hand, they need to give their customers and audience a more personal and active role by inviting them to nourish brand-generated contents. On the other hand, luxury brands must guide the creation of those new contents and counterbalance with the production of innovative and authoritative ones. The objective of this workshop is to support students in appraising effective and innovative digital communication strategies, which can be implemented by lifestyle and luxury brands. In particular, the objective is to design and execute communication concepts and plans focused on generating tangible business results (new customer acquisition and loyalty) and brand image and awareness (customer engagement and advocacy).

ELECTIVE WORKSHOP

One to be chosen among the following:

ENTREPRENEURSHIP THROUGH DESIGN WORKSHOP

Innovation is the temper of business design. In a world awash with ideas and new business ventures, what does it mean to frame a business through design? It means applying a design-thinking process to make sure your business idea solved a specific problem; and the solution to that specific problem is capable to generate revenues and profits in the long-term. Because the only distinction that makes sense in business is the one between profitable and non-profitable businesses. The workshop Entrepreneurship Through Design explores issues, theories, cultures, and methods associated with the goal of designing an “ideal business”, starting from the assumption that every successful business and company is the realization of something that originated as a dream. The aim of this workshop is to develop a business design strategy and a plan, both imaginative and reliable, to initiate new ventures, through means of design methodology, sensitivity and culture to business.

DIGITAL LUXURY COMMUNICATION WORKSHOP

With an exponential rise of digital media platforms and channels, luxury brand managers are dealing with an extremely fragmented media landscape. Luxury brands need to adapt their communication strategies to each of those platforms, which implies declining their storytelling in multiple formats and with multiplicity. On one hand, they need to give their customers and audience a more personal and active role by inviting them to nourish brand-generated contents. On the other hand, luxury brands must guide the creation of those new contents and counterbalance with the production of innovative and authoritative ones. The objective of this workshop is to support students in appraising effective and innovative digital communication strategies, which can be implemented by lifestyle and luxury brands. In particular, the objective is to design and execute communication concepts and plans focused on generating tangible business results (new customer acquisition and loyalty) and brand image and awareness (customer engagement and advocacy).

STRATEGIC BRAND MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

In our consumeristic societies, the craze of luxury brands is a cult for brands that provide meaning. Only by adding a ladder of immaterial values and telling a story about its buyers, can a brand provide this meaning. Hence the reason why luxury and lifestyle brands cannot be analyzed and managed with the same parameters and through the same strategies as mass-tige or premium brands. At the same time, younger and new consumers are redefining the confines of what makes a luxury brand.

The objective of this workshop is to give students solid strategic brand management frameworks to appraise possible strategies and business development opportunities such as new product and services development, brand and line extension, innovative business models, and other growth strategies options.

FASHION BUYING WORKSHOP

The purpose of the Fashion Buying workshop is to give students an insider view on the key role of a Fashion Buyer; from professional competencies and essential retail strategy and operations to personal attributes. In the current omni-channel fashion retail context, buyers are accountable for ensuring that the store's merchandise mix has the appeal to turn potential customers into shoppers, to maximize turnover and profit margins, and minimize the inventory risk. Students learn to identify macro-trends and upcoming fashion trends, through a deep examination of fashion catwalks, shows and presentations, to generate meaningful market insights. Based on the definition of the retailer target customer, students understand how to filter the existing offers, create a brand portfolio and define balanced groups of products that will compose an accurate range plan, within the assigned budget, to achieve the maximum the sell-through. Students finally suggest tailored services and communication ideas to support their buying strategy.

COURSES

STRATEGIC BRANDING

We live in a world of saturated market offers where competition is increasing exponentially. It is vital for brands, businesses and organizations to differentiate themselves from their competitors and potential substitutes and carve out a unique brand and business territory. The course in Strategic Branding has the goal to support students to conduct a correct strategic market analysis - a key success factor for any entrepreneurial and business activity no matter how visionary. It guides them to develop strong and authentic branding strategies in order for new brands to be able to connect emotionally with their customers and cultivate lasting relationships with them. Students will explore analytical frameworks to assess the reasons behind the success of some major brands, both from a strategic and creative point of view; appraise new strategies to effectively define a brand's positioning, consistent with the target audience and the market context; assess how to articulate and apply strong and relevant brand identities, with unique value proposition to differentiate themselves from potential competitors.

ADVANCED BUSINESS FOR DESIGN

Brand managers, entrepreneurs and designers alike need to have a good understanding of the business landscape within which contemporary design-driven brands are inextricably embedded. The course Advanced Business for Design offers students the possibility to deeply understand and practice core aspects of real life business scenarios that determine the economic performance and viability of a company, studio or consultancy. Students will explore fundamental accounting, financial and business planning tools; short and long term profitability aspects; various sustainable business model approaches; and how to build long-lasting competitive advantages. It will provide an overview of the various options to fund innovative projects or enterprises within a long-term horizon and a general framework around intellectual propriety and copyright aspects and regulations.

INTEGRATED COMMUNICATION STRATEGY

The course focuses on the promotion and communication strategies that fashion & luxury brands can create, plan and execute. A brand is one but it can tell many stories depending on the objectives, customers and channels. Effective communications are the result of integrated branding projects. The course offers a substantial overview of the world of luxury and fashion communications. Students explore the evolution of the communication mix applied to the fashion and luxury industry, the analysis of existing and emerging communication channels, the value of narratives and storytelling, the creation of branded content through various techniques, with a specific focus on digital tools and media, and the inventive use of press and public relations. Students explore strategical frameworks and operational tools to build integrated communication plans, to create brand awareness, increase the brand perception and reinforce the brand positioning's message.

PERSONAL BRANDING: IDEAS AND DIRECTION

This discipline-specific theoretical course, Personal Branding: Ideas and Direction is delivered independently within each Domus Academy Master's programme. The content of these courses is in relation to the specific programme with the common intent of promoting and consolidating a personal and independent vision and approach to be applied in the Final Project. In this course, students may work in teams (also interdisciplinary) for certain aspects; however, the output needs to include and represent individual work.

In the Final Project, the students are expected to address current and contemporary themes from a personal perspective while responding to professional contexts and briefs that involve industry partners and organizations.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

The Professional Experience is the final step of a process in which students, thanks to a one-to-one tutorship, receive a deep and balanced evaluation of their skills and aspirations, in order to build a career, which fits their aims.

There are three kinds of Professional Experiences:

- Internship in a Company/Firm: the students will be hosted in a work environment developing assigned real projects.
- Field Learning Experience: a work project carried out on campus in collaboration with a company and supervised by a project leader. The students will approach contemporary themes and explore a wide range of design subjects in a multidisciplinary environment.
- Entrepreneurship Module: an entrepreneurial journey in order to develop business and managerial skills. The students will be given a specific toolbox of frameworks and approaches both in theory and practice.

In all cases during this crucial phase students are mentored on a step-by-step basis, and acquire the fundamental experience of dealing with the real world, with real business and with the people working in the field.
